

The Boston Massacre

The Boston Tea Party

The Intolerable Acts

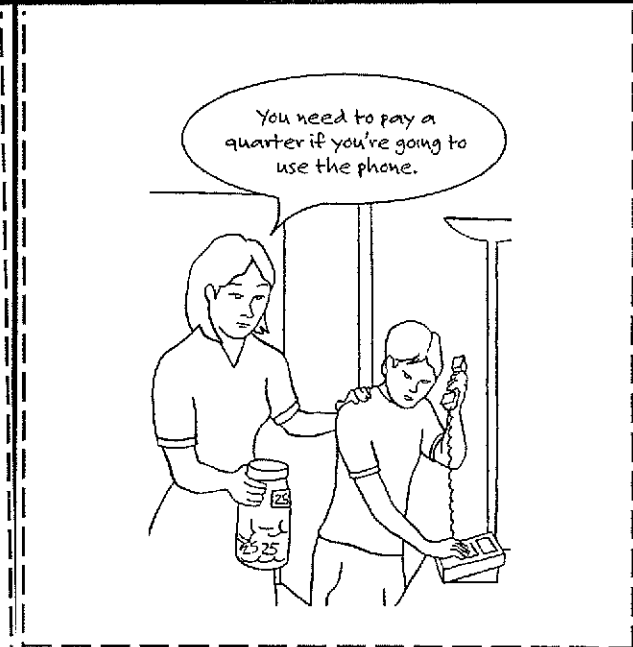

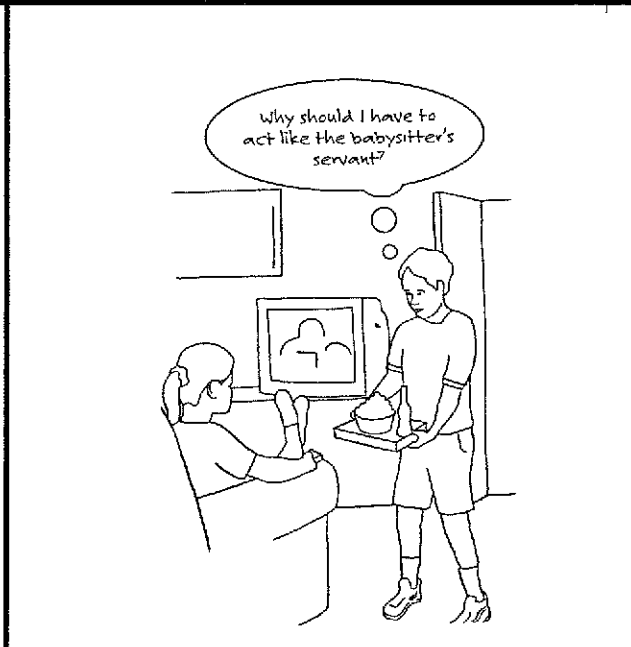

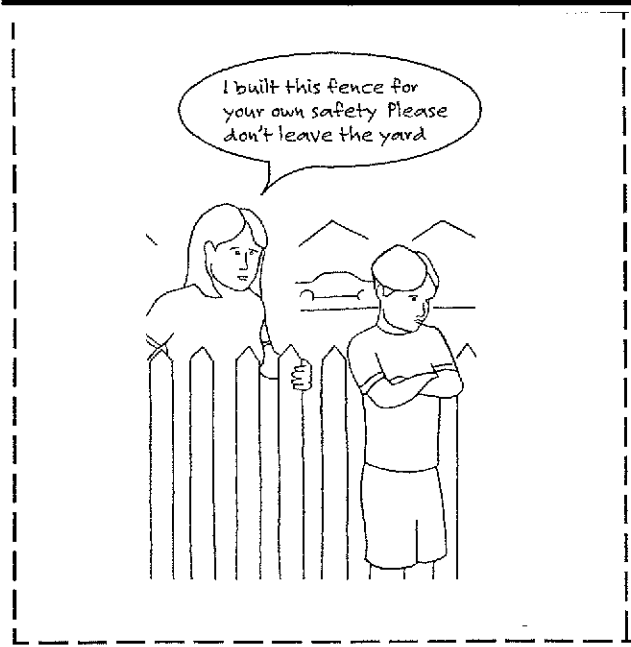

In Metaphor		In History		In Metaphor		In History
Child and baby-sitter argue	Crowds taunt soldiers and throw snow-balls	Child doesn't like being forced to drink milk	Colonists forced to buy Colonists upset at being forced to purchase tea from the British East India Co	Child restricted to bedroom	Britain Punishes colonists with several harsh laws	Child punished for arguing	British soldiers fire into the crowd-killing 5 people
		Child pours milk down the sink	Colonists dump tea into the harbor	Child angry and defiant	First Continental Congress fights the Intolerable Acts

Proclamation of 1763

The Quartering Act

The Stamp Act

With Vocabulary	With Vocabulary	With Vocabulary	With Vocabulary	With Vocabulary	With Vocabulary
Mother concerned about child's safety	Britain concerned about fighting between colonists and Native Americans in territory west of Appalachian mtns	Parents hire babysitter to watch child	Britain leaves soldiers in America to protect colonists	Parent requires child to pay for telephone use	Colonists forced to pay tax on Printed items (paper)
Child forbidden to leave yard	colonists not allowed to move west of Appalachians	Child doesn't like serving babysitter	colonists were angry about having to house and supply soldiers	Child upset about the new rule	Colonists Protest against "taxation without representation"